A NOTE FROM OUR EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, JIM STEWART

The Chattanooga Audubon Society provides access to a unique collection of nature sanctuaries and historical sites, including an island in the Tennessee River, a mile long free flowing stream, wetlands, a pristine mountain forest, an archeological site from the 1550s, a Cherokee cabin from the 1700s, and more. Please visit our properties and join some of our many programs. We have something for everyone. We would love to see you!
