Chartered in 1944 by Robert Sparks Walker, the Chattanooga Audubon Society is a diverse organization established to educate and promote an understanding of the responsibility borne by all individuals to preserve and protect our environmental, cultural, and historical resources.

Chattanooga Audubon owns over 500 acres of natural habitats in East and Central Chattanooga as well as in northern Hamilton County. All three locations provide opportunities for observing and encountering nature. CAS also provides diverse educational programs flexible enough to suit the needs of public and home school groups, religious and private groups. Public programs occur most every weekend and include nature/bird walks, classes, field trips, and more. Major annual events include the Little Owl Music & Arts Festival in March and Walker Farms Pioneer Days in November.

The Chattanooga Audubon Society is a 501(c)3 non-profit organization. Our programs, sanctuaries, and activities are made possible by the generous support of our members and volunteers. Memberships can be purchased via our website, at the Audubon Acres visitor center, or by mailing this form (see back) and your check to the address above.

Please consider joining as a member today to protect Chattanooga's oldest wildlife sanctuaries!
